

ONE DAY ON THE FIELD OF SPORT

WINS THE HANDICAP EQUALS THE RECORD

AERONAUT HANDILY TAKES THE VAN CORTLANDT AT BELMONT.

PLAYED AT SEVEN TO ONE

Touches time of Minketeer for seven furlongs, made at Saratoga four years ago—Dolly Spanker is second—Play Flap flops in third.

New York, June 5.—Aeronaut, a 7 to 1 shot, won the Van Cortlandt handicap at Belmont park to-day. The time, 1:25, for seven furlongs on a circular track, equals the world's record, which was made by The Musketeer at Saratoga in 1902. Results: First race, one mile—Belgravia won, McKittidge second, Bayonet third. Time, 1:32.5.

Second race, five-eighths of a mile—Janey won, Loyal second, Gold Lady third. Time, 1:20.5.

Third race, one mile—King Cole won, Accession second, Jack McKee third. Time, 1:30.

Fourth race, the Van Cortlandt handicap, seven furlongs—Aeronaut (Reddick), 7 to 1, won; Dolly Spanker, 123 (Miller), 7 to 6, second; Flip Flap, 112 (Shaw), 7 to 2, third. Time, 1:25.

Fifth race, Mendow Brook Hunters' steeplechase, about two miles and a half—Gambecq won, Paul Jones second, Oleroso third. Time, 3:50.

Sixth race, mile and a quarter—Bad News won, Macaleo second, Ostrich third. Time, 2:04.5.

Seventh race, private sweepstakes, four furlongs—Orlando Bobbie won, Victory Belle second, Stepaway third. Time, :40.

DECLINES BY POSTAL CARD

Harvard's refusal to play football with Pennsylvania is couched in the curtest of terms.

Philadelphia, June 5.—It has leaked out that Harvard's refusal to play football with the University of Pennsylvania had been sent, couched in the curtest of terms and upon a plain penny postal card.

While the student body ascribes the discourtesy to the faculty of Harvard, the athletic committee points out the fact that the names of the Harvard athletic committee were signed on the postal card, and that the slight must have been with their full knowledge.

The postal was received by Dr. Edgar F. Smith, assistant provost. "We discontinue the football games with the University of Pennsylvania, so that our football schedule may be lightened," it read.

It was said by members of the athletic committee that action will be taken. Harvard's action is ascribed here to a plea upon being whipped so frequently by Pennsylvania.

JOHN L. STILL KEEPS GOING

Sends for the sporting writers and tells them with hot air—Challenges the world.

Chicago, June 5.—A well-known sporting man said this week: "Old John L. Sullivan may not be overburdened with the world's goods, but his keep is going all the time."

But John should stick to his monologue and tell the people how the Irishman pushed the locomotive into the roundhouse and then got out again. It makes them laugh because it is John L. Sullivan telling it to them.

Can you imagine poor, big John, attempting to knock out every one of our fighters of to-day? It is to laugh. Why, we have a class of fighters now that John couldn't have been at the height of his career. But probably for the want of a more variety and press stuff he invented that yarn. Well, it worked, for he received several columns from those sent for.

DRAKE LOVES A GOOD HORSE

Not pleased with the story that he regrets Grapple's victory of the Metropolitan handicap.

New York, June 5.—John A. Drake said this week that he was not pleased at the impression becoming prevalent that he regretted Grapple's victory in the Metropolitan handicap because he will not be able to get any kind of a good price on the horse if he is started in a selling race, and also because of the fact that the sale of Woodstrome will be deprived of a chance in an overnight handicap because of weight.

Drake says this sort of story makes him out an entirely mercenary horseman, and he naturally denies that such is the case. He likes to win a bet as well as any man who goes to the races, but that is a comparatively small part of the pleasure he derives from his connection with the American turf. It is a well-known fact that every good horse in Mr. Drake's stable has the owner's sincere affection, and that he has sold a smaller number of horses than almost any other of the well-known owners in this country.

"To show you how much I think of Grapple," said Mr. Drake, "I was out at Sheepshead Bay Sunday picking him four-leaved clover to eat."

Overalls, which Mr. Drake considers the greatest piece he ever owned, occupied a big place in the turfman's heart, and it was general gossip among trainers and stable boys that Mr. Drake all but slept in the stall of the handsome son of King Eric. The horseman used to rise early in the morning and go out to his stable just to be with Old Wells, for whom he always kept a pocketful of sugar lumps.

NO MINNESOTA GAME.

Minneapolis, June 5.—Minnesota's request for a football game with Chicago has been declined for the same reason the conference games were abolished. The midway senate will not tolerate any football contests in which local rivalry is intense. The Gophers have agreed a two-year contract, but Coach Sing's was forced to reply that Chicago could not consider the proposal. The Cornell game was allowed because it was thought there would not be so much excitement between eastern and western teams as between local elevens.

WITH THE BREEDERS ON KENTUCKY FARMS

DE MUND COMES FROM A LONG LINE OF GOOD RACERS.

Lexington, Ky., June 5.—Paul J. Rainey's $15,000 juvenile stake winner, De Mund, comes from the No. 15 line of the Bruce Low figure system. His dam, Graciosa, now but 7 years old, is the first foal of Graciosa, the dam of Graziallo. The first named mare was out of Glendora, by imp. Gleucus. Glendora being a sister to Sir Joseph and 4 half sister to Ollie, the dam of Aloha, the sire of the American Derby winner, Robert Waddell. Foxhall, who won the Cambridgeshire handicap and other races abroad for James R. Keane, belonged to this family.

THE BELMONT INVESTMENT

Horses at Nursery farm represent an outlay of more than five hundred thousand dollars—Grapple and Dandelion show breeding.

C. H. Chenault has nine colts and nine fillies, foals of this season, at Spendthrift stud. He has 12 mares yet to be mated. The first nine foals of this year were premature.

E. C. Rainey's 2-year-old filly, Quiddity, by Russell, dam Madame Hindeo, by Hindoo, worked a private trial at Louisville this week, going a half mile in 1:45.2. She was a $250 yearling.

Hiram Steele has brought the Montrose farm horses to the Kentucky association track, and is getting them ready for the late Latonia and Canandaigua circuit racing. There is a nice bunch of 2-year-olds in this stable, principally the get of Frankfort, the brother of Hamburg.

When Rock Sand comes to Nursery farm here there will be 10 horses on this famous place which stand A. Belmont's cash outlay of $289,500. There are Rock Sand, $15,000; Hazy, $30,000; Heavy of Navarre, $35,000; Lady Langulsh, $25,000; Lucy Cross, $10,000; Fairy Golf, $14,000; Singleton, $13,500; St. Eudora, $5,000; and Missgivings, $4,000.

Mr. Belmont fully a quarter of a million dollars, so the chairman of the Jockey club owns a breeding stud which stands him an investment of more than $600,000. Rock Sand cost Mr. Belmont $55,000 more than H. P. Whitney paid for Hamburg, and $51,000 over the price imp. Watercross was knocked down for in New York last fall to his then part owner, H. B. Haggin.

A Good Stock.

Both Grapple and Dandelion, the first and second horses in the Metropolitan handicap this year, are out of mares by the English Derby winner, imp. St. Glaise, the only horse which ever sold at auction in this country for $100,000.

Dr. J. C. Carrick of this place has a number of highly bred yearlings, which will be trained the coming season. They are: Chesnut colt by Don Gray; Two-year-old, bay colt by H. H. Holliday-Sweet; Arabian, chestnut colt by Don de Oro-Switzerland, bay colt by imp. Ben Swann-Marie Shunkli. The last named youngster is a half-brother to the stake winners Benkart and Copperfield.

CROWN PRINCE WILL ATTEND

To be on hand at the German-American yacht races off Marblehead in September.

New York, June 5.—Foreign admirals state that Crown Prince Frederick of Germany will attend the German-American races off Marblehead next September, whether the boat he is building to contest for the right to represent Germany wins or loses. The prince is keenly interested in the racing of small boats, and his attendance at the German-American races is another evidence of the prince's temper towards yachting, and the German-American yacht club, and the German-American yacht club, and the German-American yacht club.

LIPTON MAY TRY AGAIN TO WIN HISTORIC CUP

HAS JUST ARRANGED FOR THE BUILDING OF NEW YACHT.

WANTS CONDITIONS CHANGED. If they are not, the fourth Shamrock may never be built, although the designer is at work. New York club silent.

New York, June 5.—Sir Thomas is still sanguine that the yacht designers, yacht builders and yacht sailors of Great Britain can win back the America's cup. He has just arranged for the building of another Shamrock, the fourth boat of the name, and a boat that promises to be unique.

The designer entrusted with this commission, Alfred Mylne of Glasgow, is a pupil of that master of the art of yacht designing, the late George L. Watson, and his training is supplemented by a fine sense of daring originality in his work.

The problem which he has to face is even more complicated than that which usually confronts the designer of an international racer. Even before the building of Shamrock III and Reliance it was the opinion of most of the authorities on this side of the Atlantic that the rating rule used in the America's cup contest was of such a nature as to leave the challenger under its provisions with but a hopeless chance of success.

Not Much Satisfaction. As a preliminary to the launching of the new yacht which has been taken form, Sir Thomas Lipton wrote to the New York Yacht club, asking whether it was intended to amend the rule, and, if so, what was the rule that would govern another America's cup contest.

The reply was most unsatisfactory, amounting, in short, to a statement that the committee would not consider the question unless it was raised as a formal challenge.

It was manifestly unwise to challenge before learning the conditions under which the contest would be fought, and the discussion, therefore, stood adjourned in the hope that the general conference of the yachting countries, called by the Yacht Racing association, would afford an opportunity of putting this matter on a sound and satisfactory basis.

The general disappointment, America declared at the last minute to take no part in that conference.

Had No Information.

When Sir Thomas Lipton commissioned Mr. Mylne to design a fourth Shamrock, neither of them had any definite information as to the rules which would govern the contest. Everything pointed, however, to the new rule as framed by the international conference, as being the best reasoning and satisfactory for all parties, and it is on this assumption that Alfred Mylne has gone to work.

It is conceivable that if the American yachtsmen stand out against the new rule, which has been urged, the vessel which is now being designed may never be built.

The order is prompted by a desire to be in readiness to take advantage of any improvement which may be made in the rule.

The deadlock rests against the fact that the designer has hitherto governed the contest against the sport. The matter rests entirely in the hands of the New York Yacht club, and it is on this question as to whether Shamrock IV will be built in time for racing next year.

JACK O'BRIEN TO AUSTRALIA

Pugilist thinks he will have good thing there in Phil Squires.

Philadelphia, June 5.—It is all probability Jack O'Brien's next big fight will be held in Melbourne, Australia, some time in November. He received a cablegram signed Jack Wain asking if he would fight, and he doesn't care so long as the money is there. It was on the week he received a manuscript, as follows: "Phil Squires, in November; weight, 150 pounds; purse, $2,000; $200 for your expenses."

O'Brien entered an acceptance, and will write at once to Wain, in discussing the proposition O'Brien said: "It looks good to me, and if this man Wain can make good, I will certainly take on the match. I don't know who Squires is, and I don't care so long as the money is there. It was on the week he received a manuscript, as follows: "Phil Squires, in November; weight, 150 pounds; purse, $2,000; $200 for your expenses."

WILL RACE FOR CASH PURSE

New Rochelle Yacht club makes a new departure that is appreciated by owners.

New York, June 5.—By adopting the plan, long in vogue in England, of offering cash prizes for winners, the New Rochelle Yacht club has made a departure that is meeting with the approval of many yachtsmen. The club points to the fact that, while prize cups are pretty and of some intrinsic value, most of the men who own fast boats have not a surplus of cups, so many, in fact, that they are sometimes puzzled to know where to put them.

Again, it is seldom that the owner of a winning yacht is able to show the several months after the race—in other words, not until the club is ready to deliver it to him. If he receives a cash prize when the race is over, even if it is less in amount than the value of the cup, in nine cases out of 10 he will be better satisfied, and if he chooses to purchase a cup or a piece of plate with it, he can select something that will not be a duplicate of a trophy he already has.

SIEGEL'S The 13th Day of June

The big holiday when the men who make Butte prosperous celebrate is the day of all days in the year when men dress in their best. "The corner store that carries the stock," anticipating heavy advance sales for this occasion, has made extra preparations in the way of added stock, and is glad to tell you that here your every "wearable want" can be satisfied. Among the late arrivals are some new design four-button sack suits (as the picture) in the "cloud gray" colors.

BENCH SHOW PEOPLE OBJECT TO NEW RULE

ASSOCIATION SEEMS TO HAVE PUT ITS FOOT IN IT BAD.

RIGHT IS NOT QUESTIONED

Club's action is scored on ground that it is not a good thing—Classification in catalogues should be left to superintendent.

New York, June 5.—A ruling of the American Kennel club is not to be accepted without demurring by the clubs that hold dog shows. An American Kennel club has usurped the place of the bench show superintendents in its new ruling, say the objectors, for it is an order as to the manner in which the catalogues shall be printed. The dog owners are loyal to the American Kennel club; they honor its beneficial and just provisions for the betterment of the dog, but the last order is denounced as a species of legislation that does not chime in with the dignified work of the organization on broader lines.

The right of the American Kennel club to make the new edict is not questioned. In a few years the bench show world, but the American Kennel club is a commonwealth, a republic of free speech and free opinions on every question of the hour, not a one-man party meeting in the dog show, and at the quarterly meeting the delegates may ask relief from the stringent enactment.

This is the notice, verbatim, that the American Kennel club sends this week to its members throughout the country: "The Notice Given."

"To Bench Show Committees: As many errors and much confusion have been caused through the publication of show catalogues not being published in the same order, it has been decided by the executive board that hereafter classifications, in order to meet approval of the members, shall be adopted by this office. For the convenience of exhibitors and the public, as well as show committees, all breeds must appear in the prize lists as follows: Sporting dogs, non-sporting dogs, terriers and foreign dogs (name each variety in alphabetical order)."

"Bench show committees are notified that classifications will not be approved unless they conform with the above. To go into effect June 1."

"A. P. VREDENBURG, Secretary."

Based on English Custom. This is based on the English show catalogues, with the breeds nearest to the main entrance. At the New York show, for instance, bloodhounds and mastiffs always start the numbers and have the pens nearest to the doors, but at other shows other breeds have the positions. It is often desired that the breed that is the greatest attraction of the year should have certain very prominent benches. Also, it is not deemed good to split up a breed, that is, to have a portion of the dogs on the floor and another portion of the exhibits on a gallery.

Now, to make the catalogue a proper help to the non-doggy spectators, who form the bulk of attendance at every show, it is essential to have the numbers run as to places in consecutive order, also to have No. 1 at the main door. Given these two rules to follow, it is the duty of the superintendent to place his entries so that they will make the best display possible as a whole. By the new regulation the American Kennel club steps in and takes this duty away from the superintendent.

Where It Is Wrong. Irrespective of all other considerations, the breeds must be grouped into four divisions, each of which must be catalogued in alphabetical order. As to the catalogue, the end would be attained by acquiring an alphabetical index of each breed in the show, with their corresponding bench numbers, on the first page.

As to classifications, besides the old ones of sporting and non-sporting dogs, the American Kennel club has been wise to add also terriers and foreign dogs. But a ruling should be made for use in variety classes, or for such specials as "for the best sporting or non-sporting dog," to show where the terriers are barred from both the sporting and non-sporting specials.

WOMEN FLOCK TO MINES ON NEWS OF ACCIDENT

SEVEN MEN OVERCOME BY WHITE DAMP AT RED LODGE.

CAUSED BY SEVERAL FIRES

All recover on being brought to the surface and excitement abates. Management combats the blaze.

Special Dispatch to the Standard. Red Lodge, June 5.—Considerable excitement was caused at the Rocky Fork coal mines yesterday morning when several men, including Foremen Haggerty and White, were overcome by white damp, the gases coming from a mine fire on the fourth east entry. When the report reached the surface it spread rapidly in the Finnish district and frantic women, many carrying babies in their arms, ran to the mine for news of their husbands. The rush of women became so great that it was necessary to place a guard at the Rock creek bridge and keep them back. They scammed in other directions, trying to reach the mine entry, and were scattered in groups everywhere, anxiously waiting for some news. Fortunately no fatalities occurred.

WINS PRAISE OF OPPONENT

Jay Gould does some excellent work on the tennis courts of the old country.

New York, June 5.—Jay Gould, the young American player, has won much deserved fame through his play in the international court tennis matches in England. In a series of splendid matches he won the right to challenge for the championship, and his defeat by the title-holder, Eustace Miles, appears to have not only been accepted as a sportsmanlike spirit, but has served to whet the appetite of the youngsters for future competition. He has declared his determination to try again next year. Speaking of the match, Mr. Miles said: "Mr. Gould is a bit of sheer whaling. I can testify that it is simply awful to play against him—he is so clever. Yet nobody could wish a more courteous opponent. In a few years he will be almost impossible to beat. Not for an instant did he display agitation. Indeed, his whole demeanor was superhuman. And yet he is only 17. At 17 I was a bone-tough and go. It was very touching to me to be congratulated by one who will beat me soon, and to be congratulated without a sign of bitterness or pettiness—just a completely sportsmanlike handgrip twice repeated."

TWO GOOD ONES SOLD.

New York, June 5.—Adbell and Samson were sold this week by John E. Madden to Fred Burley, and both parties to the transaction, with their usual modesty, or whatever one chooses to call it, refused to make known the amounts involved.

Adbell is a husky 5-year-old who has shown form that has made many bettors go to him this season, and is a half-brother to Belmont. He is the son of Plaudit and Norma, and is consequently well bred.

Samson is an imported horse, the son of Saintfoin and Eckford, and a brother to Rock Sand, the very high-priced horse recently purchased by August Belmont.

BLACK EYE FOR FIGHTS.

Spokane, June 5.—Disgust at charges of secret deals preferred by Jack Mooney, manager of Honey Melody, with counter-charges against Mooney, may cause the call for a mass meeting of the members to occur Thursday night to take steps to put a stop forever to these fights under the club's management. This may mean the stopping of all prize fights in Spokane for months to come.

Special Dispatch to the Standard. Dillon, June 5.—The game of ball between Lima and Dillon in this city resulted in Dillon beating Lima five runs. Each club has won a victory and the third game is to be played on Sunday, June 17, for a pure of $100.

Anna L. Nelson has entered suit for a divorce from her husband, Ed Nelson, charging him with willful neglect and desertion. She prays for restoration of her maiden name, Anna L. Love. The couple were married Aug. 31, 1901, in this city, and have resided here continuously until a year ago, when Nelson left and has not returned. The county commissioners met in regular June session yesterday morning. Many road matters will be attended to during the week, and the board will probably take action upon the matter of constructing a fall at Wisdom, Big Hole basin.

BASEBALL TO-DAY Butte vs. Tacoma June 6, 7, 8, 9, 10. Games called at 2:30 p. m. on week days and at 3 p. m. on Sundays. Admission tickets, including carfare to garages and return, 50c. For sale at cigar stores.
